David Kenneth Larkins, RLA, ASLA
Managing Principal

Mr. Larkins served as Principal and Director of Design for LRM, Ltd Landscape Architecture from 1989 through 2001. It was during this period that David honed and developed his keen design sense and thorough understanding of the development process.

As President and Managing Principal for LRM since 2001, David's leadership is the driving force behind LRM's steady rise in the field of Landscape Architecture. David oversees the strategic direction of the firm while maintaining the firm's rigorous reputation for quality. His commitment to creating humane places, supported by his understanding of the clients needs, has transformed the firm's work at all scales of development. As principal-in-charge, Mr. Larkins brings to each commission his 33 years of solid professional practice, as well as his background in a wide variety of project types ranging from mixed-use, retail, multi-family and single-family residential, hospitality, recreational, medical, educational, institutional, corporate, office, commercial, transportation and civic environments.

Dave's ability to convey complex design ideas as well as his skillfulness at balancing technical, environmental, business and aesthetic issues combine to offer LRM clientele unparalleled service. His positive attitude, confidence and experience provide LRM's clientele the highest level of service and translate into an enjoyable and unique experience throughout the development process. He has continuously demonstrated his skillful problem solving and understanding of each project, earning the respect and confidence of the firms most discerning clients. David carefully balances design with his extensive knowledge of construction methods and techniques as well as sensitivity and understanding of the financial impact on the design and needs of the client. David's ability to lead and coordinate complex client and consultant teams with challenging project programs, while maintaining a clear focus on design, schedule, and budget has made him a leader in the landscape architectural community.

As Principal-in-charge, Mr. Larkins will be present at all important client meetings and will internally oversee the quality at each phase of the project development.
